- Update
- Delete

From Canvas:

...narrowing down the problem you're solving and what features a system would need to address it. There are many ways you could do this: clarifying definitions and requirements, thinking about users and their expectations, deciding on your app's theme or mood, etc. It might also be helpful to "survey your competition." We're looking for evidence that you've sufficiently pondered your problem before diving into visual and technical design.

Problems:
- Android users don't have good voice memo apps
- Overachiever website - list and show people how many you did
  - make it daily
  - workouts -> coming up with workouts hard
  - grocery -> maybe like the budget idea
  - focus on gearing it
  - add songs to it? -> export it to a playlist
- make place to store music taste
- for travels - pictures on places you have been a way to share pictures from travels
  - ucsd -> specific one
- budget checker - monthly budget and keep updates tracker
  - multiple people
  - reminders
  - budget breakdown
  - push - pie chart
- buzzfeed - quiz type app?
